

Topic

This story is about a mystery egg that is laying under a tree. An owl finds the egg and begins to wonder who the egg belongs to. Since the egg is very pretty, all of the animals in the forest lie and say the egg is theirs, trying to claim the egg as their own. The owl educates the animals and the reader, stating that the egg cannot be theirs because all of the animals trying to claim it either don't lay eggs at all, or lay smaller eggs. Who does this egg belong to?
